OUR FAITH IN FREEDOM —

Seven score and ten years of American democracy have triumphed over all obstacles. Our forefathers laid down in blood the creed of our existence, that mankind might awaken to the justice that gives to every man, without prejudice, certain inalienable rights. These men rose above tyranny, greed and ambition to discover a new way of life. Now, this nation of courage proudly bears the torch of liberty that will light the entire world.

America is at war. The bitter months of struggle which are destined to follow will place our doctrines of freedom on trial before the world. In this mighty adventure we must be armed with one ideal: a unity of purpose.

We, the heirs to the future, must construct into a plan of unity four dominant citadels to insure and preserve world freedom at any cost. Each individual, regardless of race, color or creed must be guaranteed:

Religious Freedom

Economic Freedom

Political Freedom

Social Freedom

Through each of these channels we, the nation's next generation of leaders, must endeavor to pursue liberal, tolerate and benevolent justification for ourselves and our posterity.

Engaged in this valiant effort to secure world freedom, this generation cannot forget the principles of the immortal humanitarian and unifier, Abraham Lincoln, or his vision when he endorsed a policy of malice toward none and charity for all. Only men of intelligence and understanding can solve the problems which have inflicted this calamity on mankind. This is a challenge to the youth of America!

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA.

RELIGIOUS

Freedom

"...that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain---that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom"

Religious Freedom . . .

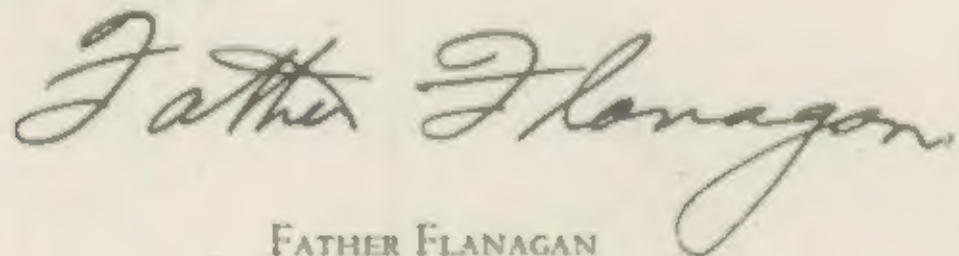

Congratulations to the graduates of Classen high school of Oklahoma City.

A great responsibility rests upon your shoulders. I know we can depend upon you to fulfill the responsibilities with which you are faced.

Some of you graduates unquestionably will continue your education following your graduation. I whole-heartedly recommend that each of you continue your education if it is at all possible. Education is something that no one can take away from you.

These are trying days. You must be prepared for whatever eventualities come your way. Some of you may be called upon to serve your country. This indeed will be a great honor.

What are we fighting for? We are fighting for democracy, which is freedom of religion, speech and press. Each of these freedoms is important, but a Godless country is one controlled by a dictator such as Hitler, and we in America pride ourselves with our freedom of religion. Let us all put our shoulders to the wheel and go all out in our effort to defeat those forces who are attempting to alienate those freedoms which have made America great. We love our America because of these freedoms. Each of us needs our religion. God bless each of you.

CITY SUPERINTENDENT

Genial Mr. Herbert E. Wrinkle, curly red-haired city school superintendent, is completing his second year as head of the Oklahoma City public schools. This experience is not a new one since he held the same position in Bartlesville for eight years prior to coming here.

Both his daughters are outstanding in Classen activities. Geraldine, better known as Gerry, is a member of the graduating class and was chosen basketball sweetheart. Charlotte, a junior, is a member of the Honor Math group and the orchestra, and both girls belong to the Honor Society, Comes and Courtesy club.

Mr. Wrinkle has promoted various improvements in our school including the all-school parties held in the building and a new metal work unit for boys.

HERBERT E. WRINKLE
Superintendent

The Oklahoma City School Board

A group of prominent business men form the Oklahoma City School Board. They are responsible for making the rules and regulations which govern the city schools, they choose the staff of 1614 people who work in the system, and under their direction ours are among the best schools in a nation full of the finest schools in the world.

VICE-PRINCIPAL

‡ Resembling a banana in its ability to bring everyone to a common level is the row of chairs in Mr. Charles S. Wallace's office. Self-termed the "principal vice", he has been dealing the same impartial judgment to each culprit, senior or sophomore, large or small, for eleven years.

As sponsor of the proctors, he is the major domo of the discipline system and Solomon in all his glory never had to make the many decisions Mr. Wallace hands down in one day. He "plays by the same rules during every game" however, and that graceful handwriting decides the fate of the just and the unjust with the same Spencerian twirl.

— THE HISTORY of CLASSEN —

It is a vision of a future where we can all share a piece of the world, where the spirit of the Millennium Curriculum can be extended with the technology of the 21st century, and where the power of the Internet will be in the hearts of students and teachers.

it became solely a senior high school.

The company's marketing executives from Mr. Charles Conway, vice president, Mr. A. M. Kinnel, general manager, and Mr. J. H. Hines, vice president, were in the company's headquarters in the city of St. Louis, Mo., where they met with Mr. J. H. Hines, vice president, and Mr. J. H. Hines, vice president, to discuss the company's plans for the future.

Then the cafeteria was changed from the third floor to the space it now occupies and a little later the south wing containing the science department was added. In recent years, the addition of the boys' gym and a girls' locker room has been made. The class of '41 presented a retaining wall for the front lawn.

The first senior class graduated in 1926 with 62 members. The next year the membership was boosted to 225. Last year 648 seniors graduated.

Because of the tire shortage, more and more people are using two-wheeled limousines for exercise, recreation or just plain locomotion. Not to be outdone by pupils who whizz about on bicycles, these enterprising faculty members leave their cars at home and pedal to school.

At the left are Mr. Howard Brown, Mr. Oakley Pittman, Mr. A. M. Kincaid and Miss Gertrude Jones.

Below, Mr. Ira Baker takes off for home. Although the photographer caught him with his eyes shut, Mr. Baker vows he never sleeps while riding.

Since the faculty now meets regularly only once a month, the teachers hold recreational meetings in the girls' gym on the left over Tuesdays. Miss Bernice Gordon, Miss Della Link, Miss Iris Baughman and Miss Martha Denny choose to play shuffleboard while others take part in ping pong, square dancing, badminton or darts.

Mr. Charles Sample, chairman of the safety committee, keeps an eye out for trouble. Part of the teachers' first aid class, grouped in front of the skeletons, are Mrs. Edna B. Stevenson, Mrs. Geraldine Buzbee, Miss Gladys Shepard, Miss Bessie Herrin and their instructor Miss Gertrude Jones. It was quite a new sensation for the students to watch the teachers worrying over their tests in first aid. Mr. Charles Grady patriotically takes no sugar in his tea, while Miss Lottie Conlan pours for Mrs. Elaine Tucker at the tea given in honor of the debaters in January. Right below, Mr. Charles Wallace's ancient "Stanley Steamer" is a tradition at Classen and continually amazes everyone by working perfectly. ORGANIZATIONS

POLITICAL

Freedom

"...that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Political Freedom . . .

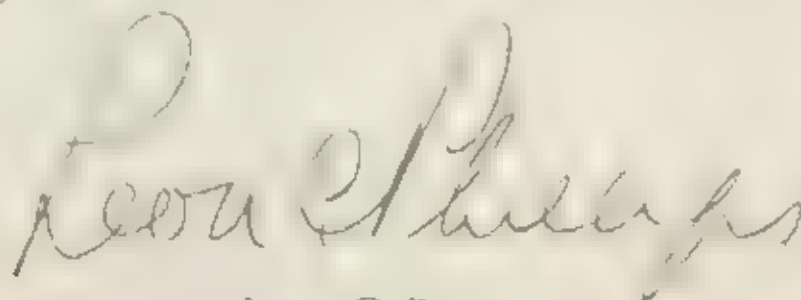

The young American of today is concerned not only with the question of who shall be the victor in the present world conflict, but also the kind of country and world we shall have when that conflict is ended.

We have an abiding faith that our cause is just, and in our own great strength to maintain that cause. But we need to look beyond this crisis. We need to enumerate the things we want, and rededicate ourselves to their preservation or attainment.

Primarily we want Liberty—that is what we are fighting to keep. We want political freedom, which means a free government, representative of the common people—you and I—administered by our representatives.

But our right to representative government—every right we enjoy—carries with it a corresponding responsibility. If we shirk a responsibility for long, we lose the privilege to which it entitles us. And we cannot expect true representation in government unless we intelligently inform ourselves, and then make our constructive wishes known to our representatives by insistent public demand.

We can work out our own answer to this question of the future. In avoiding enslavement by a foreign tyrant we can become strong enough to maintain our own political freedom. We can practice individual self-reliance. We can interest ourselves in the real needs of the community, the state, and the nation, and then do our part to meet those needs. We can retire from public office any official who shows himself unresponsive to our wishes. And we can remember that the price of liberty, which embraces all freedoms, is eternal.

* Student Council

Every debates and hot discussions feature the Wednesday afternoon meetings of the Student Council. This group is representative of Classer opinion because its members are elected by the student body and bring in new ideas directly from the advisory groups.

Its purpose is to pass rulings for the betterment of student welfare and to decide matters of school policy in so far as its 1,837 population is concerned. This compares in size with a town like Britton, so the governing job is not a small one.

Miss Clara Meyer is sponsor, and Principal Baker is a frequent visitor.

* Vocal Music

The National Broadcasting Company's program, "Music of American Youth" has been in existence nine years. During this year, twenty-nine schools were featured and of this number twenty per cent were colleges and universities. No other choir but ours has received the honor of appearing twice on the program, once in 1938 and once February 22 of this year.

Each semester the vocal department as a whole gives a full concert and assembly. The fall concert festival, in which 225 took part, presented the "Mikado." The fall assembly was the "Ballad for Americans." This spring 240 singers took part in a festival emphasizing the patriotic theme. Their second assembly of the year was the Easter assembly. The program was composed entirely of Easter music with 120 taking part.

The Class A vocal contests are closed for the duration but in four years of entries, we have won top honors for seventeen out of eighteen entries to the state contest and fourteen out of seventeen entries to the nationals. However the department did attend the state festival at Stillwater this year, directed by George Howerton of Northwestern.

Outside of regular school activities, this year the A Cappella choir has sung in many assemblies in junior high schools, at Oklahoma University, Oklahoma A and M, and Edmond State Teachers' College. Also they appeared with the Oklahoma Federal Symphony Orchestra in our own assembly and for the soldiers at Will Rogers Air Base.

A great help in the bettering of the music is vocal director Chester Francis' radio recording machine and public address system. Classen is believed to be the only senior high school in the state which owns one.

This year about 250 students are enrolled in the music department as compared with the 75 enrolled when Mr. Chester Francis, director, first came here.

* Instrumental Music

The Classen Orchestra has made first division for the last five years. This year, the contest was cancelled because of the war situation. The instrumental music department has won the grand champion award offered alternately at A. and M. and O. U. during the entire time Mr. Oakley Pittman has been director here.

The Classen Concert Band was selected at the state clinic in Stillwater as the outstanding state band. Combined with the orchestra, it has won the state sweepstakes the past five years.

The Pep Band is frequently called upon, both for school occasions and for civic groups, to exude peppery inspiration. Perhaps their most important activity this year has been to play for trains of departing soldiers.

Working Saturday, after school, on holidays and through lunch periods with bottles of aspirin handy to revive the weary, the Orbit staff has labored to try to produce a better annual than last year's. This is quite a goal, because the '41 annual received the All American honor rating or the highest National Scholastic Press Association award.

Classen Life

Superman is a reporter in disguise. But the Classen Life Staff doesn't bother to wear tights or flowing capes. They stride bravely into danger armed only with a pen and a pencil. This year they have survived physically unscathed and olive wreaths galore.

Like Don Quixote, they have battled with such weapons as wastebaskets, assembly programs and a little endurance. Through all this there has run a constant stream of good times. Often the last to leave the building, many Life workers will remember the fun of climbing the gate to go home.

Elizabeth Lees, editor, also brought home some bacon by being president of the Oklahoma Inter-School Association for the year.

* Speech Department

Although hampered by transportation troubles, the speech department has sent representatives to district contests at Enid, Shawnee, Ada, Edmond, Durant and Goodwell. They qualified for the state finals in all events.

For the first time there will be no national contests this year because of war conditions, but in the state finals at Norman, Helen Cunningham took third in poetry, Selma Ginsburg second in humorous, Dorothea Grundy fourth in dramatic, and the participants in the radio play which won second were, Betty Bob Angerman, Beverly Bird, Lucille Bouton, Helen Cunningham, Doris Dolman, Selma Ginsburg, Dorothea Grundy, Jolene Hinman, Dan Hogan, Vovli Scurlock, Edward Miller, Geraldine Riker, Charles Schrameck and Regna Lee Simpson. Betty Jean Clark placed first girls' extemporaneous and second in original oratory, Bill Crowe placed second in boys' extemporaneous, and Bill and Jack Jones won second in debate.

The principal debate teams this year, Jack Jones and Bob Head, Walter Gray and Jim Horgan, Bruce Scott and Bill Crowe, George Murphey and Bill Aven, have attended invitational meets at Springhill, Mississippi, Coffeyville and Wichita, Kansas and Edmond, Ada and Shawnee, Oklahoma, where they took second place each time. Debate Coach Mr. Charles E. Grady pointed out that while not equalling last year's brilliant record, he has trained more future debaters this year than usual.

In addition to these contests and the productions put on by the department, Mrs. Elaine Tucker's radio class appears on KOMA weekly with radio plays written by the class. Speech students are frequently used on programs by all four local stations. Mrs. Tucker's special course in diction is the only one of its kind in the city.

Freedom

"...conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

Social Freedom . . .

It has been said that most of the countries of the world fear the peace even more than they do the war.

To understand this fear, one has only to realize the important problems the post-war world will face: repair of the vast physical destruction of the war; reestablishment of normal living; organization of international political life; reconciliation of political nationalism with international restoration of tolerance and faith in a world indoctrinated with hate and fear.

The things that divide us are trivial as compared with the things that unite us. An American soldier wounded on a battlefield in the Far East owes his life to the Japanese scientist, Kitasato, who isolated the bacillus of tetanus. A Russian soldier saved by a blood transfusion is indebted to Landsteiner, an Austrian. A German soldier is shielded from typhoid fever with the help of a Russian, Metchnikoff. A Dutch marine in the East Indies, is protected from malaria because of the experiments of an Italian, Grassi; while a British aviator in North Africa escapes death from surgical infection because a Frenchman, Pasteur, and a German, Koch, elaborated a new technique.

The Bill of Rights will outlast "Mein Kampf" just as the centers of the world will once again be centers of candid and fearless thinking—homes of the untrammelled and unafraid, where there is liberty to learn, opportunity to teach and power to understand and this earth will be a place to live in instead of a place to fight and freeze and starve in.

THE ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION.

BASKET BALL

The traditional star of the Comets during rest periods of the games is formed here by the starting squad. Clockwise they are Jimmy Mitchell No. 22, Charles Pugsley No. 24, Jack Nicholson No. 30, Roy Cope No. 23, and Frank Kellert No. 29.

Advancing to the semi-finals of the state tournament, the basketball team, coached by Mr. Carroll Smelser, finished first in the intra-city league and first in the mid-state contest. Smelser seems to follow the knack of Stillwater's famous coach, Hank Iba, in turning out well-balanced outfits with no special player to pin down

Finishing their regular schedule with 21 wins and 4 defeats, the squad looked forward to the championship of the regional tournament as well as that of the state contest. They won the regional cup and got to the semi-finals of the state tournament where they were defeated by Holdenville, who won the state contest. This was the Comets' best year in basketball in five years. Each game they played seemed to be better than the last.

Through the efforts of Charles Pugsley, headliner of the squad and such stars as Jimmy Mitchell, Gene Cheatham, Jack Nicholson, and Roy Cope, the team nearly achieved the goal that the prognosticators predicted. The sudden illness of Jack Nicholson seemed to upset the system and teamwork of the Comets.

Although Pugsley, Cheatham, Mitchell, Tommy Suggs, George Kenworthy, and Frank Kellert will graduate, the team will still have such players as Nicholson, Cope, Jimmy Harris and J. D. Riley to replace them. Each year it seems that the last good players will graduate, but each year more capable players take their place.

Pugsley and Mitchell, Classen's two most outstanding players, were chosen to help fill the all-city bill.

THEY'RE STATE SEMI-FINALISTS

Coach Carroll Smelser's Comet cage team had their best season since 1937. The Comets annexed the city title, the mid-state conference championship, took the regional title after two close games with Central and El Reno and went to the semi-finals in the state tournament where they lost to Holdenville 34-32 after two overtime periods. Holdenville then went on to win the state title.

In conference competition the Comets won eight and lost two out of ten league games, finishing with a percentage of .800. They lost one close game to Central and one to Enid, but later avenged these defeats by large margins.

Over the full season route, the Comets won 25 games and lost 5. Included in the Comets' string of victories were two wins over Tulsa Will Rogers, last year's state champions, and three wins over our bitter rivals, the El Reno Indians. The only team that was able to down the Comets twice during the season was the powerful Tulsa Central team. They defeated the Comets 17-16 and 25-24; both games being decided in the last 11 seconds of play.

High-light of the season were two victories over the traditional rivals, the Central Cardinals. One was by the decisive score of 33-18, and the other 25-23.

Twice during the year the Classen team rose to dizzy heights. In the second game with Central during the playing season, after losing to the Cardinals at Central 17-14, the Comets went out on their home court before 3000 fans and turned a determined Central team 33-18. Never was the Comet defense more impregnable, never was the Comet floor-work smoother, and never were Classen fans so enthusiastic.

The other two heights were reached by the Comets when they again seared the Cardinals 25-23 in the regional tournament to win the city championship and then the next night defeated the El Reno Indians 27-25 in the finals of the regional to qualify for the state tournament.

At the close of the season the Comets dominated the All City and All State selections when they were awarded two first team berths on each.

Charles Pugsley, forward, and Jimmy Mitchell, guard, were given first team positions on both selections.

Frank Kellert and Charles Pugsley wait anxiously for the ball, in a tense moment during the Classen Central game. Classen won 23 to 18.

Mr. Carroll Smelser smiles as his first year as basket ball coach here successfully draws to a close.

—and for next Year

The schedule for next year hasn't been set up yet, but the games will be played with virtually the same schools. The Comets should play a better game after this first year of a new system.

Returning squadmen will be Roy Cope, Jack Nicholson, J. D. Riley, Jimmie Harris and Jimmie Elder. These boys combined with 10 promising sophomores should give Classen another bright year in 1942-43.

It is a sad thing for the coach to see his seniors graduate, but there are always others to take their places.

they also served...

During the first half of the quarter finals with Bartlesville, Junior Jack Nicholson left the court with an attack of appendicitis. He was sent to the hospital during the second half and was operated upon at 3 a.m. His height, taken out of the line up, may have altered the outcome of the state championship.

Tommy Suggs, a senior, played very little. Jimmie Elder and Jimmie Harris, promising sophomores, should play quite a bit of ball next year and be going strong in seniors.

Manager Jack McMillin had never seen a basketball game until this fall when he volunteered for the strenuous job of taking care of the basketball boys.

★ Comet capers

During Comet Capers held after school before each athletic contest, the student body is given an opportunity to express their opinion before the student body. It is a time when the pep club and the student body in the gymnasium. These activities, build up school spirit, and engender pep.

Mr. Lloyd Estes is chairman of the Comet Capers committee, which functions as a branch of the assembly committee. Pep club presidents and sponsors constitute this group. Each pep club plans and presides in rotation at a caper.

Classen's famed Comet Capers are a great inspiration to the boys before games. It is said that sometimes victories can be attributed to the fact that the teams feel that they are really backed by the entire student body.

Jean Bailey, who vacated to Fort Sill with her colonel pappy mid semester, leads the parade of school yell leaders down the page: Nancy Roberts, Jean Boardman, "Jeep" O'Neal, Bobby Bristow and Freeland McGee. These six were elected by the student body after try-out performances in the fall.

... bad WEATHER Is

The 1941 football team, which slushed about in mud nearly every game, was sparked with outstanding linemen and flashy deceptive backs. For the second year Captain Eddie Blalock was an All City end. Tony Lyons was also all-state tackle.

Pre-season critics predicted that Frank Kellert, most outstanding passer in Classen's history, would be a thorn in the side of all opponents. His passing and field generalship was far above par, he lacked only good receivers.

The football season of 1941 was opened at Altus. The Comets held the strong Altus team to a minimum of yards gained and would have won the game which ended in a 12-12 tie if two of Kellert's passes had been received. Bob Thacker, right half, Tony Lyons, left guard, and Captain Eddie Blalock were the standouts on the field.

The following week end the Comets journeyed to Houston, Texas and were very much in the ball game for the first three quarters, but the fourth quarter they weakened due to the intense heat and humidity. In this quarter Houston's Regan scored their winning touchdown.

game slowed down both teams. A long pass by Kellert to Blalock accounted for a Classen touchdown, and a safety gained by the Comets made the score 8-0 Classen.

The bus ride to Shawnee on Oct. 10 resulted in a Classen victory 13-12. This game was the heated contest of the year. So tight was the ball game that a winner could not be named before the final gun.

Classen won this game 18-7 under adverse weather conditions. Charles McDonald, W. A. Henderson, Bob Kelly and James Logan, represented Classen in the line. Kellert, Thacker and Barnett were the star studded backfield.

Virgil Greene, seldom a star, but a hard working end snagged a pass thrown by Kellert and raced for a touchdown that edged out Guthrie 7-0.

feature of FOOTBALL SEASON

Enid visited Classen Oct. 30 and brought them four inches of rain. Centering a wet slick ball, Willhoite, Classen center, gave Tony Lyons a bad pass which resulted in an Enid Touchdown. A fumble by the Comet safety resulted in another 6 points for Enid. The score was 12-0.

Monday snow greeted us in the Norman game. A wet slick field kept the Comets from using their speed and passing. The result was a Norman victory 12-0.

Coaches

... ATTENTION Turns to SPRING

Playing the finest game of the season, the Comets were beaten by Tulsa Central 12-7. All of Thacker's long runs were stopped just a yard short of the goal and Kellett's passes could only get to 1.

Oklmulgee came to town and trounced the Comets 31-0. Just one of those ball games where nothing goes right for the Ending up on 11 game schedule Classen and Northeast locked horns. Northeast emerging the victor 32-0.

The Mexico Trip

Four seniors and six boys, but that's it is done in Mexico. Sanford Plant, Virg Greene, Verne Woods, Tony Lyons, Bob Kelly, and Hugh Wilhoite went to Mexico with the good will tour because they were outstanding senior football players. The Oklahoma team won by one goal in the last minute of play.

Spring Practice

Some one hundred boys reported for spring football practice, and out of this group, Classen students should become familiar with these names

Bob Brundley, Bob Thompson, Dan Kozak, Bill Taylor and Charles Shaw

Richard Hermann, Carl Stephens, Bill Holstein and Louis Barnett, all promising ends

The backfield will be well fortified by such backs as "Rusty" Brown, Jim Hill, Howard Clark, Gerald Lovel, Rex Thomas, Jerry Potter (first sophomore to letter since Bob Peoples), Dick Battle, Ernest Hill and Captain Bob Thacker

The boys who lettered this year and who will return are Thacker, Barnett, Battle, Potter, Kozak, Clark and Curtis Harris

(In the Pictures) Out on the practice field north of school the boys exercise and have practice scrimmages after school. Coach Leo Highbie watches his boys divide up into teams for scrimmaging. In lieu of Lana Turner, Bob Thacker pushes the practice dummy around.

... headed

Every year hundreds of boys go out for the minor sports, and so although they do not attract as many fans, tennis, wrestling, baseball, swimming and track all assume importance for the boys in spring.

Former international singles tennis champion, Don McNeill, came to see Mr. Earl Coffey, his high school coach while home on a visit in February. "I think I got my best training in tennis here under Mr. Coffey," Don told them.

When the Orbit went to press the baseball team had just lost its first game of the season to Central. With three wins and one loss they still have high hopes of winning the state championship.

Earl "Jeep" O'Neal is our claim to boxing fame. In the past two years he has won every state title in his class. He now holds the state AAU and the state Golden Gloves titles in the 112-pound class. He also is head yell leader elected by popular vote.

At the state track meet in Norman this spring, George Pulley took third place in 100-yd. backstroke, the relay swimmer placed third and Jack Keeling won the state singles tennis championship.

TRACK

Waiting for Mr. Cutley's start members of the track team. Jerry Miller, 100 yard, quarter mile and relay; Max Haulton, high and low hurdle; Lawrence Rosa, high and low hurdle; Volney Farnsworth, 440-880 yards and relay; Robert Johnson, 440 yards mile and relay and Paul Cole, quarter mile, 880 yards and relay.

PING PONG TENNIS BADMINTON . . . BASEBALL

The school ping pong champion, Naomi Henricks goes to the state tournament as captain of the team.

Pam Watts and Jane Dietrich, tennis stars, rehash that last set as Gloria Howe, first place winner in the state women's doubles and city mixed doubles, serves a hard one.

Leading badminton players are Mary Emily Snyder, Naomi Henricks, Nancy Owens and Carolyn Butwell who is the school and state birdie champion.

SWIMMING . . . ARCHERY VOLLEYBALL

'And don't bend your knees' But these words of wisdom by Miss Gertrude Jones, swimming instructor, aren't really necessary for Mary Louise Carter, Helen Reeds, Margaret Murray and Barbara Burton have been state swimming champions for two years.

Bound for the state championship as straight as their arrows are bound for the bull's eye is the archery team composed of Patsy Murphy, Rose Marie Young and Lora Mae Ivey.

Miss Retha Wave Hulet and Miss Gertrude Jones direct the activities of the girls physical education department. Both of them look far too feminine to portray the usual conception of a gym teacher. In general they divide their duties with Miss Hulet in charge of sports and Miss Jones directing the dancing and warming.

... the show

Bob Duncan and Voyle Scurlock forcefully demonstrate in the top picture what they intend to do with women like Betty Cheadle, who attempt to invade the field of highschool journalism. The occasion for this action was the three-act play, "Ever Since Eve," presented in the auditorium April 7 under the sponsorship of the Little Theatre group. Others in the cast were Therol Martin, Linda Loftin, Jack Andrews, Bart Breiz, Blossom Ford, Eddie Miller, Carolyn Bloom, Gene Nowell, Bob Harms, Dick Morton, Richard Hermann, Tom Dolan and Lee Allerman.

"The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," by Sir James Barrie, which rated an assembly February 12, is illustrated in the bottom pictures. At the left, Jolene Hinman waits on her adopted Scottish soldier son, Dan Hogan, when he returns from a battle to meet her for the first time after knowing her only through correspondence. Regna Simpson, Dorothea Grundy, Jolene and Selma Ginsberg discuss the parts their respective sons play in the World War I

Being fascinated by the intricacies of a dead bird are Betty Bob Angerman, seated, Margaret Baird, Jolene Human and Betty Jean Clark, standing. Others in the cast were Bill, Helen Cunningham, Roy Semtner, and Mary Margaret Moore

They appeared in "Ladies in Retirement" January 9. The psychological murder mystery was the edge of the seat suspense type, direct from the Broadway stage, and Classen's presentation preceded Hollywood's release of the picture. Although the entire cast delivered smash performances, Jolene deserves a pat on the back for her superb acting in a difficult part

Bagler John Woolery is a familiar figure, tootling "To the Colors" in assembly. Below is the usual worried crowd in the wings during a program. That's Mr. Lloyd I. [unclear] charge of stage scenery, in the spring suit, craning his neck

... the RIGHT

In addition to programs put on by various departments such as vocal music, art, instrumental music, English, science ~~etc.~~ many outside speakers and entertainers appear in the Classen auditorium on assembly days. Some of the appearances are annual events, such as the Oklahoma City Symphony Orchestra directed by Mr. Victor Alessandro or Dr. Edward Howard Gross' philosophical lectures. Others of special interest this year have been Mr. Stanley Lautenschlager who spoke on "Our Stake in the Far East", and soldier of fortune Delbert Harter, who related some of his really interesting experiences.

Rubinoff chats with Mr. Baker after entertaining with his famous violin. This is the second year the maestro has bowed in, bowed, and bowed out.

...something NEW

The field of learning at Classen divides into these twelve departments: commercial, English, history, home economics, industrial arts, language, mathematics, music, physical education, science and speech.

Within these divisions are numerous classes other than those in the ordinary curriculum. Some of them can briefly be called fun as well as informative. Some of them are pictured here.

However, they are not to be confused with the usual snap classes. Perhaps some of the knowledge gained in them will last longer and prove more practical than that gained in more formal courses.

Under the direction of Mr. Frederick House, the boys learn to do sheet and metal work. It is a very practical course. They make things like lamp bases, smoking stands, strong boxes, and practically every other known metal gadget.

Robert A. Wright is working on a large piece of metal. He is a very skilled worker and is used to making things like this. He evidently doesn't mind being the only one in the shop who can do this kind of work.

has been ADDED

Among the unusual classes here are those such as machine bookkeeping, office practice consumer goods, creative writing, journalism, international relations, social problems, metal work, French and Spanish conversation, slide rule, elementary engineering, hygiene, first aid, high school problems, stage-craft and corrective speech. These classes are all a part of the daily schedule and do not include any of the numerous extra-curricular activities.

Kenneth Bowden, Larry Waring, Clovis Putney, Charles Franklin and John Todd, under the watchful eye of Mr. T. R. Stemen are finding out the secrets of that moving picture projector's innards. These boys are trained to run the machine for the classes which benefit from the visual education program here. This is one more example of the progressive methods of teaching which Clatsop is adopting all the time.

Mice hold no terrors for Pat Dawson, Muggie Dalton and Miss Nell Gilling. They are studying the effect of vitamin deficiencies upon the animal. Mrs. Edna Helges and Mr. T. R. Stemen are assisting in this project, too, as heads of the Vitamins for Victory campaign. As proof of the necessity of vitamins, one of the mice was killed away recently.

... Preparation for the

For the duration, Classen is prepared in many ways. Look again, those aren't sardines, but students who think the nice thing about an air raid drill is that we don't have to brave the elements as in fire drills. Mr. Charles Sample, as head of the Student Safety council and chairman of the Safety committee, has supervised the air raid precautions. At the alarm, three short bells and one long, which stand for the three dots and a dash of victory, the students march out of the rooms and line up in the first and second floor halls. A section was assigned to each teacher, and practice drills have been held from time to time.

Don't be frightened, Louezon Killingsworth, it won't bite—it's only two and one half gallons of fire extinguisher. Louezon is wisely examining it, in view of the new importance these handy gadgets have assumed.

duration

These aren't early birds, they're just the usual students who stumbled in, half awake for the first few mornings after the time change. Even though the tardy bell now rings fifteen minutes later, that hour Uncle Sam filched fools us into thinking we had more time, hence the necessity for new tardy regulations.

Gayle Farmer trustingly allows Lieutenant Raymond Schwab to demonstrate an iron lung. The fireman explained the functions of this formidable contraption in an assembly given in connection with Fire Prevention week.

Pictures on this page are examples of the general mixing it up of the mixers. Bob Thacker and Imogene Van Dyke are evidently in the groove, judging by those happy faces.

... Student Mixers

The student mixers were inaugurated by the Classen P.T.A. two years ago for the purpose of providing wholesome recreation for the students. Under the leadership of Mrs. Clyde Harrison, president, facilities for merriment are plentiful and free of charge. There are entertainments of various sorts offered on the Little Theatre stage; the social dancing department is in the girls' gym; and people stomp the square dances in the cafeteria. If the girl friend demands food, as is frequently the case, food can be had at a nominal price. Tables for ping pong are set in the halls.

These get-togethers fill the need of social activities to round out the characters of the participants. — Principal Baker

Bob Cooper, Ann Keeslar, Jo Ann Wylie and Phil Litman, tired but happy, patriotically ride a street car home from a mixer. The stagecraft class, under the supervision of Miss Lottie Conlan, first semester, and Mr. Lloyd Estes, second, builds all the sets for plays and assemblies. They paint scenery, obtain props (such as dead birds or live kittens), and arrange everything. They toil far into the night devising such things as making two different backgrounds on a movable wall using dry ice for a steaming teakettle, or making rocks from tin cans and old paper.

Freedom

"...It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us--- that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion"

Economic Freedom . . .

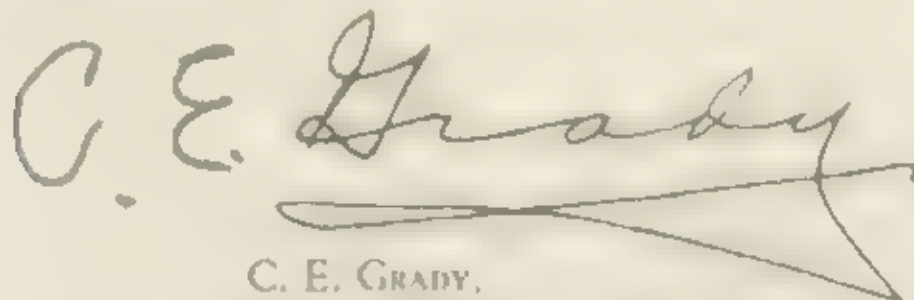

It is impossible to separate economic freedom from economic security. Economic freedom can never be attained without unity of action. No man's pay is secure when others are without the means of support. No man's dividends are secure unless purchasing power is in the hands of the masses.

No section of the country must be neglected; when cotton prices go down, the people of the South cannot buy Michigan's automobiles. This is a $100,000,000,000 country. When the income falls below this figure, we are doomed. Our railroads cannot prosper on less business than such an income provides; if our railroads fail, we will go down with them.

The lower economic level must be raised. 70.9% of all the children are coming from families of the lower economic group. Act now, or this group will act tomorrow.

To secure economic freedom for all, the lowest wage level (except for servants) must be $1200 per year, then the poor will cease paying only 5¢ a meal and begin paying 12½¢. Then the farm problems will cease. Alphabetical agencies will go out of existence.

Economic freedom will be ours.

☆ Officers of the Class of '42

The spring a senior's thoughts lightly turn to thoughts of graduation. And the class of 1942 is no exception. The 554 seniors will participate in the week of activities which includes the awards assembly, senior assembly, senior sermon, senior breakfast and graduation.

Doctor C. Q. Smith, president of Oklahoma City University, was chosen speaker for graduation which is held May 26 in the Municipal auditorium. Mr. Ira W. Baker, principal, presides.

Special committees appointed by the president to plan activities are, senior sermon, James Logan, chairman, J. Earl Farris, Gae Farley, Harriet Chantrv; assembly, Pam Watts, chairman, Bill Caldwell, Bruce Scott, Roberta Crow, James Barnett, breakfast, Leland Harrison, chairman, Melvin Pierce, Laree Gumm, Margaret Chandler; gift to the school, Betty Jo Brown, chairman, Jim Horigan, Walter Gray and Lester Moore.
